

TO QUIZ PROSPECTIVE CANDIDATES AT FEAST

Why do you think you should be the republican candidate for governor of Illinois?

If you are nominated, why should the people of the state of Illinois cast their ballots for you?

What will be your policy if you are elected?

If present plans are carried out, these and similar questions will be asked the numerous seekers of the republican nomination for governor at a banquet to be given by the Hamilton Club about the middle of January.

Gov. Deneen, States Attorney Wayman, Walter Clyde Jones, Len Small, and any other avowed candidates who may be in the field at the time will be invited to attend and define their platform.

Gov. Deneen and Wayman have already been approached by representatives of the club, and have signified their willingness to attend. Deneen said to a member of the club that he would make no definite announcement that he was after the nomination until Jan. 7, but the fact that he has agreed to attend the banquet is taken as conclusive evidence that the governor will seek a third term.

It is rumored that the Marquette Club, an organization of business men, will disband before the campaign, and throw most of its membership into the Hamilton Club, in an effect to make the political body a stronger and more effective aid for the republican candidate in the gubernatorial race. The affiliation will probably be announced in a few days, prior to the banquet at which the candidate for the nomination will be present.

CLUBS JOIN MOVEMENT AGAINST DANCE EVIL

Another boost was given the Juvenile Protective League's plan for municipal supervision of public dance halls yesterday, when three South Side clubs joined the movement for regulation, classification and supervision of all public dance halls.

The clubs are the Eureka, St. Laurence and Dellwood athletic clubs, all of Grand Crossing. Officers and members of the clubs have found that the dances, formerly their most important source of revenue, are not receiving the patronage they did in the past.

The report of the Juvenile Protective Association on dance halls, which placed the majority in an unfavorable light, stamping them as a commercialized adjunct to the vice and liquor interests, is held responsible for the light attendance.

The members of these three clubs believe that with proper supervision young people will again attend the dance, secure in the knowledge that everything will be "all right."

Thomas G. Cassidy, president of the St. Laurence Club, is the originator of the "supervised dance" idea as regards the clubs of Grand Crossing.

Following the application, two
